Uproar Among the Spirits—Anna Eva Fay's Conflict With Mate-rialism.
From the N. Y. Horald of the Pth.] From the N. Y. Herald of the Pith.]

Last evening the comfortable hall of the San Francisco ministrels, in Broadway, held an assemblage of a very retined class, present to witness the demonstrations of Miss Anna Eva Fay, who is described in the advertisement as the "Gelebrated Indescribable Phenomena or Spiritual Medium." Every one present seemed in the best of humor. On the stage there was a cabinet, lined with red cloth, which had six short legs, each of which had a pivotal wheel under it. The cabinet was in sight of the andience, and it was not possible for any accessory or cabinet was in sight of the audience, and it was not possible for any accessory of friend of Miss Fay, to come near it and accomplish any trick. Professor Fay, the manager of the seance, came for ward a little after eight o'clock and addressed the audience. He was attired in full evening dress, and stated that he expected silence from his hearers. He added: "That order as had been observed when Miss Fay had the honor to appear before the Prince and Princess of Wales." Immediately the audience became still, seeming to consider that if the royal wanderer could repress his feelings for Miss Fay's aske, they could overcome theirs. "If will now have the pleasure to introduce to you Miss Fay, who will make her manicatations. We do not pretend to any priritualism or electricity or animal magnetism. We do not say that it is any others things, nor do we claim that it is things, nor do we classes appoint-we ask that a committee be appointandience, who shall examine set and Miss Fay," said Professor any kind, nothing but meal and all the good, early-cut hay they will eat.

The audience chose Surgeon General Hammond, Mr. Fairchild (who goes all spiritualistic seances to expose em) and Capitain Turner as the committee. In a moment Miss Fay appeared, egandy dressed in black silk, trimmed in costly white lace having a flowing sin. Her hair was in waves upon her boulders. The audience gave her a very union street, and cried out that a man was on the roof at the back part of the providers. The audience gave her a very was on the stage, were asked to bind Missay's hands, and, as she is a very hand, and, as she is a very hand, and, as she is a very hand diately rushed around to the rear of the diction strips a yard in length around revists and Capitain Turner took a celle and thread and commenced to the condition of the model of ch them closely, so that it could be disered whether or not they had been when the manifestation was All the ladies in the au-laughed heartily when Capplaced his spectacles on commenced to sew in a nose and commenced to sew in a her nervous manner. Dr. Hammond k no part in this performance and Mr. rehild complained that Miss Fay ild not hold her wrists closely togethso that he could bind them tight-Miss Fay answered that she did not sk it necessary to hurt her, and

THE AUDIENCE SIDED WITH HER. Professor Fay stated that they had hired the hall, and they proposed to conduct the manifestations in their own way. Dr. Hammond declared that the whole thing was a humbug. Miss Fay, with a glance of feminine contempt at him that might have penetrated an Ulster overcoat, stated to the audience that Dr. Hammondhad acted as her personal enay in writing a letter to the newspapers y in writing a letter to the newspapers ohim. There was a scene or greater in the audience rising to their roles and creaming at the top of their voices, and it the hadies laughing until the tears ame into their eyes. Cries of "Bounce in:" "Let the committee do their work!" "Go shoot yourself!" "Cheese it" "Pull down the blind!" "Hire a little "Pull down the blind!" "Hire a little "Pull down the blind!" "Hire a little "Pull down the blind!" in the merits of Cole's Corn Salve and quit limping. "It is the merits of Cole's Corn Salve as being an excellent remedy for corn and bunions, as I have sated at the back of the house, and on it being suggested that he should be put on the committee by some hilarious young man the minstrel's face became blanched with fear. He wanted "no circus," said he, for some time, various gentlemen ing through the house, and on it seng auggested that he should be put on he committee by some hilarious young an the minastrel's face became blanched with fear. He wanted "no circus," said he, or the audience at the time were having good deal of fun with their own selected committee. Dr. Hammond came down wice from the stage and was sent back by the audience. Finally Miss Faywas allowed to enter the cabinet, her hands because the stage and was sent back by the surface. owed to enter the cabinet, her hands be-ng tied, Mr. Fairchild objected to the nethod, as he stated that there was a slack Miss Fay then performed her emonstrations very successfully. She rank a glass of water, banged a banjo, sed small shot around, played on a outh organ, put a pail on her head and uced a ring, borrowed from a lady in the ce, in her ear. All these "stunts," sung man in the audience styled the ulations, were done with Miss Fay's tied. The committee was comriv puzzied, and the audience got up-ious and stopped the performance. essor Fay then asked the audience if would not permit the dark semes to eed, but they would not, and the show ended in a scene of indescribable ex-

ir. Stewart's Property and Judge Hilton.

From the New York zun.

The bequest of one million dollars by Mr. A. T. Stewart to Mr. Henry Hilton, we presume is the largest bequest ever made in this country to a person not related by blood or marriage to the testator.

And now the conveyance by Mrs. Cornelia M. Stewart, widow of A. T. Stewart, to Mr. Henry Hilton, is someting still more astonishing. For the sum of one million dollars she conveys to him all her interest in the real and personal property belonging to A. T. Stewart, & Co., including all the real estate, mills, factories, and other property, whether standing in Mr. Stewart's name or the name of the firm, used for the purposes of the partership. Wheeling Wholesale Market.

OFFICE DAILY INTELLIGENCER, Wednesday, April 19.

The leading merchandise markets have been moderately active during the pastreek, and while it is short of what it usually is at this particular time, it is increasing, and general business is now being conducted on a healthy and legitimate basis. The grain markets have been more active during the week under review, and with light stocks and an increasing demand, prices are hardening. Flour is decidedly firmer. The Hog products are easier, and the outlook at the present writing is rather unfavorable for sellers. There is an increasing business in Groceries. Eggs in liberal supply and prices continue to rule in buyers' favor. Butter scarce and higher. RITTERL—Reported scarce in the courtry. Prices have advanced to 28a32c.

Of course when the profits of the business shall have been sufficient, Mr. Hilton's time comes to go where Mr. Stewart's, with three-quarters of a million, and furnish it, like Mr. Stewart's, at the cost of a million, worth of paintings. And when, at last, Mr. Hilton's time comes to go where Mr. Stewarths agon, it is to be hoped that he will leave behind a worthy representative to whom he can bequeath the then greatly enchanced Stewart interest, so that the prosperity of the family may be continued, and the self-respect of famil
